

Industrial subdivision land for sale

Elk Point's Industrial Subdivision is looking for new owners. A number of prime, serviced lots are still available, and Town Council has decided to seek owners for these properties.

The first step will be advertising the lots for sale by tender, both in the newspaper and by sending present landowners in the subdivision an invitation to purchase more land to expand their operations. The tenders will close on August 16, and the amounts offered will give Town Council some idea of what price purchasers would be willing to pay.

Council agreed to promote the sale in order to help out the Town's financial situation, both by recovering the price paid for the lots and by increasing tax dollars. Even if the purchasers do not immediately develop the lots, some financial benefit would be derived by the Town, although it was noted that some special consideration might be given to purchasers who expect to develop their properties in the near future. Only the lots with road access and services are being offered for sale at the present time.

Tenders will be reviewed at a special meeting of Council on August 16.

Council is also considering selling the Peter Fidler Centre. A letter received some time ago from the Elk Point Elks Lodge had indicated the Lodge might be interested in purchasing the building if it were for sale, and Council has now agreed to see if the interest is still there.

Cost cutting is being considered in all areas of Town operations. Invitations to tender for the position of Municipal Auditor will be sent to qualified accountants in this and surrounding communities. The current contract has now ended.

Some expenses, however, cannot be put off. One of the Sewer Lift Station pumps is again in need of repairs, and Council agreed that a new pump is the only answer, as this one has been repaired numerous times. The old pump may then be repaired for use as a back-up unit.

Installation of a water line loop on 51 Street has been considered, but would require renting a track hoe. While this has been included in the budget, the cost figures will receive further consideration before the project is given a go ahead.

Costs of obtaining a portable outhouse for the north ball diamond will also be looked into, as residents in the area are concerned with the needs of ball players for this type of facility.

Elk Point Library Board is currently in need of three more members, with a fourth's term expiring in September. Council agreed with a proposed policy that would state that a minimum 60 percent of the board must be town residents.

Town wants your ideas

Keep those cards and letters coming in.

The Town of Elk Point has already received several letters regarding the hike in taxes, and are hoping that more will be forthcoming. All letters received so far had ideas for saving money, and Mayor Buck and Council would like even more input on which to base their decisions.

While the Town is operating within its budget, ratepayers are finding the increases unacceptable, and want corners cut. "If people are concerned, and are willing to live with the changes, we want to hear about it," Buck said. All concerns will be taken into consideration, he noted. "Council is also concerned, and about some of the same areas."

Ratepayers are urged to list their ideas for saving tax dollars, and forward them to the Town of Elk Point at Box 448, Elk Point.

Farm accident claims life

A 55-year-old area resident is dead following a farm accident July 10 south of Elk Point.

Pete Falenda was killed when the tractor he was using to cut grass along a road on his property, rolled over, pinning him beneath. The tractor then caught fire.

Break and enter

Elk Point RCMP are investigating three break and enters which occurred last week. The Empress Restaurant was entered and a quantity of cash and cigarettes were stolen. Bumper to Bumper was also entered and a car radio and a small quantity of cash was taken.

In Heinsburg, Double J's store was broken into and cigarettes and food items were taken.

Arrest

Two male young offenders were apprehended by Elk

Point RCMP inside the Lucky Dollar Store in Heinsburg on July 7 at 4 a.m. A 16-year-old and a 14-year-old, both of St. Paul, have been charged with break and enter with intent, possession of a stolen vehicle and breach of an undertaking.

Shooting accident

On July 13 at approximately 5:30 p.m., a 13-year-old Fishing Lake youth was accidentally shot in the left leg with a .22 calibre rifle. The injury was not life-threatening. The youth was treated at Elk Point Hospital and later transported to hospital in Edmonton for further treatment.

Investigation by Elk Point RCMP disclosed that young adolescents were playing with a .22 calibre rifle they had discovered at a residence they were visiting. The matter is still under investigation.

SAND ENGINEERS - Jules Fontaine, Mathieu Mahe and Yvon Fontaine are hard at work on their "Castle from Space" creation during the sand castle-building competition at Whitney Lake Saturday. The event was one of several activities staged in recognition of Parks Day.

Parks Day celebrated at Whitney Lake

Saturday was Parks Day in Canada. It's a day geared towards encouraging people of all ages to get out and take advantage of one of Canada's greatest resources - its parks.

At Whitney Lakes Provincial Park the day was recognized in fine style with a variety of activities taking place to promote all that the park has to offer. A sand castle-building competition, nature hike and kids' games highlighted the afternoon's events.

Kerry Hope, ranger in charge at Whitney Lake, was pleased with the turnout at the event and the interest generated as to what the park has to offer in terms of recreation.

"It's an opportunity to let people know all about the services offered and what we're here for," he said.

"It's a nation-wide event to promote the use of provincial and national parks across the country."

A display featuring equipment used by the park rangers in their day to day jobs, was also featured and included: a bear trap, fire wagon, motor boat, first-aid equipment and rescue gear.

Whitney Lakes Provincial Park has a number of attractions including: hiking trails, playground, beach, swimming lessons and boating and fishing. With 55 camp stalls at Whitney Lake and another 150 at Ross Lake, campers can usually count on finding a good spot.

CROSSING THE FINISH LINE -- Chinook Centre chuckwagon driver, Buddy Bensmiller from Dewberry, finished second in the seventh heat at the Calgary Exhibition and Stampede chuckwagons finals Sunday with a time of 1:16.11 for a combined total of 12:57.31. Jerry Bremner from Westeros won the $50,000 final with a time of 1:15.13 and a combined total of 12:49.56.

Letter to the Editor

Ag. society has community and government support

Dear Editor:

We are writing to clarify what we feel is a misrepresentation of the facts regarding the Ag. Society which was stated in an interview by Mr. Harmes.

He states that the future of the Ag. Society "does not look bright for improvement" because of "an astonishing lack of support for the Society by local governments and the province."

The following is a chart outlining the grant money which has gone to the Ag. Society in the past 6 years that we are aware of and have been verified by the various departments involved:

This statement makes us angry. Diana was a former treasurer for Minor Hockey and we know that for the past several years (ever since they started to work Bingo's), Minor Hockey has donated close to $20,000 per year to the Ag. Society either to pay for operations or direct cash for Society's loan payments. We also know that the Figure Skating Club has donated monies as well. Our questions are: 1) Where are the donations to the Ag. Society from the Riding Barn and Rodeo user groups? 2) There is no mention of the Riding Barn having to shut down this fall. Why just the Arena?

As far as an agriculture profile, riding horses is a recreational sport, just the same as playing hockey or figure skating. The only true agriculture basis for the Society is the 4-H Club and the Agriculture Fair where grains, handiwork, horticulture and livestock are shown.

We feel that part of the problem is the fact that one organization has been pitted against the other; that misinformation and insinuations have been the basis of decision making instead of facts and a will to work cooperatively to attain a common goal. It can be done. It has been done in the past.

Grand total: $524,694.12

Plus - $10,000.00 from Town of Elk Point Tourism grant for gates at Rodeo Grounds

This represents over 1/2 million dollars! How can some one possibly say there is an astonishing lack of support by government??

Now please remember that if you add on the donations from the corporate sector like Amoco, the local organizations that contribute every year and the loan for $450,000 that the Ag. Society had to take to pay for the building of the Riding Barn, Rodeo Ring and addition to the Arena - we have an expenditure of well over $1,000,000. It is not a question of "not enough money", to us it is a question of how that money was managed.

A couple years back we asked where is a long range plan? How do you intend to pay for this? Once the building is completed where is the money going to come from to operate? Those of us who were asking the questions were criticized for being uncooperative and trying to sabotage the project.

Now we have Mr. Harmes saying that the Ag. Society has subsidized the arena every year and that "the Town, the County and the Province will have to get moving on an operational plan immediately if the arena is to be open this fall."

Mayor responds

Dear Sir:

On the front page of the July 13th issue of your paper a statement was made that the local government has not been supportive of the Elk Point and District Agriculture Society. I would like to provide the following information extracted from the Town's financial records.

- $3,000 grant per annum.
- $23,150 contribution in labour, parts and material, to install the water and sewer line to the Agriculture Society's Barn property.

- $10,000 grant through CTAP for the Tennis Courts.
- $10,000 grant through CTAP for the Rodeo Ground gates.
- $750 grant to off set RCMP Musical Ride expenses.
- $500 grant to off set 1992 Circus expenses.
- Providing and maintaining a parking lot at the A.G. Ross Arena.
- Free water to the Horse Barn.
- Tax exempt for a 1993 value of $26,864.

The previous Council has also supported the Society in their quest to change the status of their society by having a representative from the Department of Agriculture at a Council meeting as well as writing letters in support of the Societies application for change in status.

I think it is important that the citizens of Elk Point and area be aware of the support the town does provide to the Elk Point and District Agriculture Society.

Yours truly,
Ed Buck

What's Happening At COMMUNITY SERVICES

Parents ... do you need a break? Kids ... are you bored and looking for fun and excitement this summer? Why not come out and join in the fun by registering in one of our summer play programs. There are lots of games, indoor and outdoor activities, crafts, field trips, stories and special events planned. There is a nutritious snack provided for the children each day as well. All this and more at a cost of 50 - 75 cents an hour to parents! Call Community Services to register or for more information.

Fun in the Sun: 7 - 12 year olds, $40.00; Monday through Friday, 1:00 p.m. - 3:30 p.m.

Sun Spots: 3 - 6 year olds, $25.00; Tuesday and Thursday mornings, 9:00 - 11:30 a.m.

Summer Fun In Summer Play

Sports Week was the theme for last week's activities. Activities included: T-shirt painting, stories, games, sports banners, chalk drawing and a mini olympics. Field trips included visits to the library, playground and tennis courts. This week we'll be celebrating Multiculturalism. The week will be highlighted with ethnic costumes, discoveries through show and tell and visits to the bakery, police station, a trip to Fort George/Buckingham House Interpretive Centre and more! Call Tracy at 724-3800 to register or for more information.

Information Needed For Community Directory

Hi! I'm Amore Gagne, and I'm currently gathering information on community organizations in order to compile them into a community directory. This directory will be made available to anyone who is seeking information on the services which our community provides. If your organization has not received a questionnaire in the mail this week, please feel free to contact me at 724-3800 during business hours at Elk Point Community Services.

Thank You Provost!

Thank you Provost for your outstanding efforts at organizing the North Eastern Alberta Summer Games. Justin Conrad and Robyn Danyluk are on the Zone Basketball team and will advance to the Summer Games in Wetaskiwin on August 5 - 8. They will be joined by other Elk Point medal winners: Chris Melnyk and Tim Mikitka (Tennis) and Shanna Baker and Tanya Kenyon (Equestrian). Congratulations and the best of luck in Wetaskiwin.

Have You Ever Tried To Play Basketball ... Minus The Hoops?

We need your help! The outdoor basketball courts south of the tennis courts are usually packed with youth, fine tuning their basketball skills. But it's been a ghost court lately ... cause there's no basketball hoops to shoot and play with!!! I guess the hoops finally disintegrated through all that use! Estimated costs to get the courts functional for the short term is $40.00 per hoop. (We hope to approach the Alberta Sport Council for longterm assistance). We need community individuals or groups to help get the courts functional and provide positive and healthy lifestyle activities for our youth. Call Danny at 724-2864 if you can help out.

How To Quench The Worst Thirsts

Your body is composed of up to 80 per cent water, which is why it's so important to keep it well hydrated; experts recommend drinking 8 to 10 cups of water daily. And, when the temperatures soar, you should gulp down even more liquids, especially when you're engaged in sports or other activities. But don't reach for just any drink!

Here's a run-down on the best - and worst - beverages for quenching powerful thirsts:

- Water ranks as the number 1 thirst-quencher because it's absorbed by your body quicker than other fluids.

- Fruit juices provide water plus vitamins, potassium and fruit sugar. Just be sure the beverage says 100 per cent juice.

- Vegetable and tomato juices: While high in water and vitamins, most of these juices also contain lots of sodium, which only make you thirstier.

- Sports drinks are designed for strenuous workouts of two hours or longer and help replenish the body's need for chemicals that are lost through sweat. They quench thirst as well as water but are not necessary for the average exerciser.

- Alcohol and caffeinated beverages are the worst thirst-quenchers. Both actually dehydrate the body, making you even thirstier. So, when it's 90 degrees in the shade, don't reach for a glass of beer, iced tea or coffee!

TENNIS NEWS

Danny Maas

The Elk Point Tennis Club would like to thank Doug Bassett and the people at B & R Transport for delivering the new rebound practice board to us from Calgary for no charge. It is through kind and generous donations from the people and businesses of Elk Point that the Tennis Club is able to provide the tennis programs and equipment that so many of our members have come to enjoy.

The Club will be working a bingo in St. Paul on July 31 and we would appreciate volunteer assistance in running that bingo. If you are available to work on the evening of the 31st, please call me at 724-2864, or call Jim Hawkins at 724-2007.

If any young tennis players are interested in playing in some tennis tournaments in Edmonton, I have a schedule of the Junior Tennis Circuit. There are 2 tournaments per week, which usually run on a Monday - Tuesday and a Thursday - Friday. These tournaments run until the end of August, so please contact me if you are interested in some competition.

It is not too late to learn how to play tennis! If you would like to begin lessons and practices, please call me so we can set up some times that are good for both of us! The cost is quite reasonable, and your knowledge will last a lifetime. If, at the end of your first lesson, you do not like tennis as much as you thought you would, I won't charge you a penny! What a deal!

Editorial

Our Past

By Steve Andrishak

Dr. Weigerinck - our lady doctor

Steve Andrishak

Dr. Anne Weigerinck received her Doctor's degree in medicine from the University of Manitoba in 1921, however, she remained inactive in her profession for a number of years following her graduation.

Prior to World War II she and her husband and three children lived on a farm near St. Paul, Alberta.

After the declaration of war in 1939 many doctors joined the armed forces and rural hospitals found it difficult to replace them. Such as the case in Elk Point when Dr. A.G. Ross enlisted. Without his services Dr. F.G. Miller would have been left alone to care for the sick in a large growing area. It was imperative to find a replacement for Dr. A.G. Ross as soon as possible. Previous to this, Dr. Weigerinck had decided to brush up on her profession and return to the medical field. It wasn't long after that Dr. F.G. Miller enticed her to come to Elk Point to practice medicine at his clinic as well as assume duties in the Elk Point Municipal Hospital. This was late in 1939 and the following year the Weigerinck family moved to Elk Point. They established their residence in a home previously owned by Rev. Lorentzen. It was located on the lot where Irene Miller makes her home.

Dr. Weigerinck was often referred to as "Our Lady Doctor" by many of our village residents. In no time after her arrival she proved herself to be a very dedicated doctor, one who had no trouble fitting into our community. With only two doctors to serve a large area, she soon found herself spending many long hours at both the hospital as well as at Dr. Miller's Clinic. Somehow she still found time to devote many hours to community affairs within our village. She was active in the Red Cross Society and was instrumental in forming Elk Point's first library which was located in a small building built on the lot where the Elk Point Insurance and Realty now stands. She was also active in our local scouting movement.

Dr. Weigerinck was well thought of by Dr. F.G. Miller as well as by the nurses and staff of the Municipal Hospital. She soon gained the respect of her many patients and friends within the community.

Dr. Weigerinck was very sports minded. She took an active part in the formation of Elk Point's first curling rink which was located where our town library stands. Being an ardent curler, she skipped her own ladies rink for many years both in league play and in local and out of town bonspiels. For many years she stayed with much the same rink, which included Doris Andrishak, Barbara Millholland and Mary Soldan. Dr. Weigerinck also enjoyed watching hockey games in our outdoor skating rink. Often she was seen standing along the boards cheering the Elk Point team on to victory. She was a hardy individual who didn't let cold weather keep her away from the games. Dr. Weigerinck also enjoyed outdoor life. She was an exceptionally good swimmer who spent much of her spare time swimming in the frigid waters of Cold Lake where she owned a cabin. She was always one of the first swimmers to take an early dip in this lake, sometimes a month or six weeks before anyone else had any thoughts about swimming.

When Dr. A.G. Ross returned to Elk Point in 1947 after spending a number of years in the armed forces as well as practising medicine in the Vegreville hospital, it brought some relief to both Dr. F.G. Miller and Dr. Weigerinck who were often over-worked because of a shortage of doctors.

During the latter part of the 1940's the Weigerinck family moved to the spacious residence formerly used by the Dr. A.G. Ross family. It was located along hi-way 41. Later Dr. Weigerinck built a new home next to the Catholic Church. This home is now owned by Bill and Barbara Millholland.

Dr. Weigerinck's husband passed away in 1944 and during the following years her family of three started leaving our district. Paula, the oldest became a teacher, Jack joined the Royal Canadian Mounted Police and Doris enrolled in College. Presently they are all living in the Courtenay district of Vancouver Island.

Dr. Anne Weigerinck passed away in 1968 after actively serving our community for 29 years. She was greatly admired and respected by all for her many years of faithful service as well as for her untiring community work.

I am sure the many older residents of Elk Point and district will always remember Dr. Anne Weigerinck - our lady doctor.

From the Forts

The following article is by Shirley Wishart, who will be speaking and showing slides at Fort George - Buckingham House on Thursday, July 22 about her trip to the Orkney Islands.

Strangers Alike

Shirley Wishart

Let us take a brief look at the contributions of the Orcadians, Scots and Native peoples to the New World, or the "Nor Waast" and the fur trade as a whole.

Certainly, the Orcadians brought with them their affinity for the sea and for boat building. While the rivers inland from the large bodies of water posed a challenge, it is evident that the Orcadians, for the most part, made the adjustments necessary to feature so prominently as steersmen and canoe builders.

Perhaps the most significant contribution of the Orcadians was that of the York boat, modelled after the design of the Orkney fishing boat, which took its original design from their Viking ancestors.

Yet another significant contribution, and this to the social life of the various communities, was that of the music of the fiddle and the traditional folk tunes which are still played at gatherings of the descendants of these men. The Red River Jig is yet another legacy of the mixing of the Orcadians and native peoples.

Bear in mind that the Orkneys became part of Scotland in 1458, so that there was a certain cross-culturalization, even though customs of each were sometimes distinctly different.

One legacy of all Scots is that of water bannock, which began as a sack of flour, with a little flour mixed with water at the mouth of the sack and either fried or baked over open fires. Look at what has become of a simple staple food and all the variations on the recipe.

Two of the best publications about the role and contribution of the native peoples to the fur trade and to the likes and very survival of the newcomers are Sylvia Van Kirk's Many Tender Ties and Jennifer Brown's Strangers in Blood.

Survival, that most fundamental link between humans is that which motivated Orcadians, such as James Spence and William Flett to take as their wives and companions, Nestichio, and Saskatchewan, the daughters of native and white parents.

Daughters of native mothers and non-native fathers were taught in the ways of their mothers. In the case of the Homeguard Cree, those natives who resided near the posts, such as York Factory, the Cree fathers recognized the advantages of trading alliances with the Orcadians. They followed the native tradition of sharing, not only offering their daughters to prospective bridegrooms, but influenced their daughter's choices.

What little we know of men like Spence and Flett is based on journal entries indicating that they were well liked by their co-workers and that they, upon their deaths, provided for their wives and children in the terms of their wills. The relationships, therefore, were not promiscuous, but based upon a mutual respect for each other. There was a growth of family ties and a marked concern for the welfare of native dependants evidenced in many of the wills of Orcadians and Sylvia Van Kirk cites the example of William Flett, on page 45 of her book, Many Tender Ties. The Orcadians esteemed their native and half-native wives for their abilities as wives, mothers, and help-mates. Anthony Henday's journal contains the following statement:

*One (woman) can carry, or haul, as much as two men can do. They also pitch our tents, make and mend our clothing, keep us warm at night; and in fact there is no such thing as travelling any considerable distance, or for any length of time, in this country without their assistance. (Tyrrell 1911:101-2). (Quoted by Jennifer Brown, Strangers in Blood)*

Sylvia Van Kirk, in her book, Many Tender Ties, writes of the value of the role of the Homeguard Cree women at York Fort, and, indeed this would apply to the role of the Cree women at many of the other fur trade posts: (The following is from a journal entry)

They clean and put into a state of preservation all Beaver and Otter skins brought by the Indians undried and in bad condition. They prepare Line for Snowshoes and knit them also without which your Honors servants could not give efficient opposition to the Canadian traders, they make leather shoes for the men who are obliged to travel about in search of Indians and furs and are useful in a variety of other instances. (Van Kirk 1972:4).

Laura Dyer, a good friend of mine, told me the story of her grandfather, William Stanger, who came over from the Orkneys in 1862. He was sixteen years of age. He reported that a group of Orcadians, together with Homeguard Cree, left York Factory to make the trek down to Norway House. At Grand Rapids, Stanger, while asleep in the tent containing all the provisions, was attacked by a bear. The bear mauled him, badly clawing his arm. The native women were able to save Stanger's arm using poultices and other traditional native medicines. When the Orcadian lads came down with dysentery, the native women brewed spruce tea for the lads to drink. Stanger went to his grave many years later without ever saying a derogatory word about the native people.... "We Orcadians would never have survived without the Indians."

The final word goes to Samuel Hearne and to his epitaph to Mary Norton, a Cree woman. Hearne quotes a passage from a poem by Edmund

WHAT'S NEWS AT THE LIBRARY?

Thank you to the Friends of the Library who held another successful Bingo on July 12. It was good to see everyone out.

We have a new question of the week. "What insect makes it's nest out of clay?" If you want to find out the answer, come and look at our new block of books which is all about children's science.

The Summer Reading Program is going smoothly. We have 27 children in the Elementary program, and 23 in the preschool program. On August 5 we have a chance to go with the St. Paul Summer Reading Program to the Edmonton Space Science Centre. The cost is $16.25 plus your supper at MacDonalds. If anyone is interested in this please contact Gayle at 724-3737.

The library has received a large selection of new books. In our large print area you will find several romance novels such as Gail Trenton's Reflections in the Stream, Jean Graham's The Image of Eve, Christina Green's Village of Whispers, Quenna Tilbury's Dr. Nunn's Nurses, and David Farrell's Strange Enemy. For our Western lovers we have the following new books, also large print; 7 for Banner Pass, The Killers Wore Black, by Marshall Grover, The Saddle Wolves, Lobo Valley, and The Hard Riders, by Lee Floren. These are just a few of the new romance and westerns we now have.

In regular print we have a new psychological thriller written by Alan Scholefield. Night Child is a story about a double-murder which was so complex that the investigation requires the help of a child psychologist.

There are also various new books for the younger patrons. We have Real Live Science, by Jay Ingram, which is filled with scientific experiments that children can do. Along with stories such as Christopher, Please Clean Up Your Room!, Murphy, and Birds of a Feather.

In Memoriam

SMITH, Carl

In memory of Carl Smith, who passed away July 21, 1992.

His smiling way and pleasant face

Are a pleasure to recall
He had a kindly word for each
And died beloved by all.
We often think of bygone days
When we were all together
The family chain is broken now

But memories will live forever.

Always remembered, sadly missed by Del, Faye, Doug, Darryl and Joanne.

FGM Class of '1973 reunited

Maul, Bob Krawchuk, Gary Nettleton, Donald Smith, Phillip Jendruk, Dale Kozicki, Keith Tredger. Classmates that attended but not in picture are: Jeannette Bouchard (Lesyk), Shelley Degazio (Buksa), Sandra Holthe (Lorenson), Joanne Noel (Pilisko), Roland Poitras, Donna Sharek, Joyce Spence (Ballas), Cheryl Wentz (Johnston), Tim Zarowny.

On Saturday, July 10, the 1973 graduating class of F.G. Miller gathered together for their 20-year reunion at Stoney Lake Hall.

The day began in the morning with a tour of the schools. Many were impressed with the many changes to the facilities. After having a group picture at the front steps of the high school, the group proceeded to the Stoney Lake Grounds.

There they started off with a wiener roast. Lots of visiting was done. A couple ball games and soccer games were played. Then a barbecue beef supper was served. David Petrosky valedictorian of the graduating class did a great job being M.C. for the evening. After a short program, everyone was entertained by a video of the graduating ceremonies in 1973. There were approximately 30 classmates and their families for the event. The rest of the evening finished by reminiscing of old times and events around the campfire.

Joni Matthews leaps her way to nationals

Elk Point's Joni Matthews jumped herself into another age category during the Provincial Legion Camp track and field championships July 10-15 at the University of Calgary.

The 14-year-old Matthews, who usually jumps in the midget girls' division, won the juvenile women's triple jump with a leap of 10.83.

Matthews was forced to jump with the 16 and 17-year-olds because the triple jump is not offered at the midget level at the Legion Camp.

Her triple jump was good enough to break her own age-group provincial record of 10.53.

But more importantly, she qualified for the Nationals in Saskatoon Aug. 12-19th.

Matthews also proved she could compete with girls her own age as she won the midget 400 metres in a time of 60.09 seconds and the long jump with a jump of 5.02 metres. She will be competing in the nationals as a midget in the long jump and 400 metres and as a juvenile in the triple jump.

"She's such a hard worker"

It's not just raw talent that has gotten Matthews to this level, according to Reg Green, North East Alberta Track Club coach.

"She's such a hard worker," Green said. "What she has been able to achieve is because of talent, obviously, but also she really applies herself."

"She's not afraid to put out the effort — which is really nice from a coaching aspect."

Though Matthews was the only NEAT athlete to win gold at the Legion Camp there were some other strong efforts turned in by local competitors.

Jeremy Brown of Dewberry, was seventh and eighth respectively in the Juvenile men's 100 metres and 200 metres.
